Experience

Self Employed at Mechanics,& Handy Jobs

July 2015 - Present (1 month)

I create employment by offering general auto maintenance, and services at peoples home. Works well with elderly, and disabled. Also do almost any kind of odd job, or handyman service, including home remodel construction, building construction, landscaping, and gardening.

Driver at Torrez Sanitations

November 2009 - March 2013 (3 years 5 months)

Drove a trash truck over huge routs picking up trash.

Bussiness Partner, and Mechanic at C&K Tire Shop

January 2001 - November 2001 (11 months)

Opened a tire shop with partner. We did any number of automotive mechanics, services, and tire repair, or sale. Most business was automobile mechanics; repair of all nature, services, and even engine repair, or change. Operated a road service using a bread van converted into a service vehicle, and traveled to roadside breakdowns, and factory's, and farms that depended on us as a much more convenient, and cost efficient service than renting, or hiring a rollback towing service to haul heavy farm, and logging equipment into town for repairs. Both my partner and I shared all levels of work, though I was a more sought after for engine, and deeper repairs for automobiles. It done very well until my partner had marital problems, and we ended up selling to avoid a tremendous investment loss we each would have had if a court attached our assets to his divorce settlement.

Receiving Agent at Story's Supermarket

July 1995 - May 1996 (11 months)

Receiving delivery supply's and store goods for store departments, and inventory stock. Maintained an accurate circulation of stock to compensate each day a shelf inventory flow, an count for maximum utilization of space, and minimum overstock. Kept a hand written ledger to place each departments orders, and maintain control of any noted fluctuation in standing orders I created, and additional sale items that may have been new product, changed product, or vendor, and a great number of miscellaneous department, and store supplies items that changed every day. It was much like my purchasing job at Madison Memorial Hospital, but with fewer tasks, and responsibilities.

Purchasing Director at Madison Memorial Hospital

June 1988 - May 1995 (7 years)

Job summary: Under the general direction of the administrator my responsibilities where to supervise and direct all purchasing material acquisitions, and supplies. I handled all processing, and distributional functions of all departments, storages, and facilities in association to the organization. Skill, and Knowledge Abilities: Besides managerial, I communicated effective oral, and in writing with all levels of department head supervisors, and management. A skilled negotiator in the purchasing process with vendors, and sales representatives for supply, and equipment. Matched cost comparison with accounts payable, and negotiated contracts.
